Most Corporations

draw the line at murder, not enough credited there by a public gorged by awesome strikers crushed, customers poisoned, or maidens ravished by MBA'd Legrees. Corporatists laugh at melodrama, seeing rather run of the mill sinners roiled by reality into makers and takers.